HQ

STRATEGIC VISIBILITY · CREDIBLE INFLUENCE · MEASURABLE IMPACT

Visibility Is the Vehicle, Not the Destination

We believe communications should do more than generate visibility — it should build credibility, strengthen stakeholder confidence, influence policy conversations, attract strategic partnerships and demonstrate measurable impact.

For most communications teams, the challenge isn't creating great content — it's securing credible editorial placement quickly, at reasonable rates, through relationships that took years to build. That is the gap Brass HQ closes.

Over 15+ years spanning broadcast journalism, public relations, development communications, stakeholder engagement, business strategy, consumer psychology and AI-powered communications, we've built trusted relationships across Nigeria's media ecosystem — relationships we now extend to the organizations we support.

We currently support organizations including the Mastercard Foundation with ongoing editorial placement, and work as an outsourced Editorial Communications Desk for foundations, NGOs, multilaterals, corporate organizations and government programmes.
